

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

As you will note elsewhere in this issue the voter registration period has been extended until the end of February following the passing of legislation in Austin. This was brought about by a court ruling last December to the effect the Texas Law left too much time between the registration period and elections.

We doubt very seriously if this new law will satisfy the courts any more than the old law did. This is likely just a stop gap measure to get us by until some form of amendment to the constitution can be passed whereby voters who vote one year will automatically be registered for the next year.

All of this is just fine except we doubt that it will do any good. We already have more people registering than we do voting. Voter registrations over the state have not climbed much since the days of the poll tax. And while the added few days this year might get a few more registered, we suspect that if the same law is in effect next year we will see the same last minute rush to register. When you already have four months to register we doubt if adding one more month will help.

While we don't see anything unconstitutional about having to register to vote, we are not too surprised at a federal court ruling this way. We seem to be in the age where if things are not going your way you just change the rules. If you want more voters you just change the rules to make it easier and easier—whether it works or not.

This seems to be the trend with everything. If the rules offend you—just change them. Kids don't like the rules at school so let us just change them. The U. S. Senate seems to bog down in its own inertia so let's change the rules it has operated by for nearly 200 years.

The world is full of problems, but we doubt that they can all be solved by just changing the rules. Somewhere we have to learn the rule of nature that in the end if you want something you have to pay for it.

We read somewhere the other day that we waste $25 million a year on money spent for seat belts that are never used. We have just about wiped out all of the smaller locker plants with government regulations to protect the consumer. The same is true of ambulance service. Already the city of Stamford has had to take over the service there while here and in Anson efforts are being made to work out some solution to the problem.

We understand that the already bad tv programming is likely to be even worse this fall as the FCC has ruled that the networks must give back to the local stations a half hour of prime time in the name of local interest programming but at the same time have ruled that the local stations can fill this time with anything they wish.

And the list can go on and on.

Have you been keeping up with the welfare mess in New York City where they are housing families in all of the old hotels? How would you like to own an old, run down hotel and collect as much as $250 a week for two rooms?

While we have not seen these hotels in New York we have seen some in Dallas and other places that must be similar and if they got $25 a week for two rooms it would be too much.

Don't know what the answer to their problem, but maybe we could reopen the old White Plaza and Harden Hotel here and import some welfare people.

Supt. Pleads for Better Attendance By Students

Hamlin School Supt. C. F. Cook issued a statement this week urging better school attendance by local students. He cited state aid as a prime reason for better attendance.

The State of Texas bases its aid to the local school district on average daily attendance and as attendance falls off the state aid drops with the local taxpayers being required to make up the difference.

Other reasons he cited as being important for each child to attend school regularly were:

"The teacher cannot help your child if they are not in school.

"Being regular in school is a good way to develop responsibility.

"If your child is irregular in attendance, he or she will get behind and therefore get discouraged.

"The best education you can receive these days may not be good enough."

Supt. Cook concluded, "Please if your child is not ill, send or bring them to school."

It is the responsibility of the superintendent of schools in Texas to enforce the Compulsory School Attendance Law.

This law states, "Every

Voter Registration Deadline Extended

Voter registration has been re-opened across Texas and will continue until Feb. 28 following the signing of a bill by Gov. Preston Smith extending the registration time beyond the Jan. 31 deadline.

County tax assessor and collectors across the state received telegrams Friday ordering immediate re-opening of the registration and continuation of registration through February.

Extension of the deadline resulted from a three-judge federal panel's ruling in Houston last month that Texas' voter registration procedures in regard to the deadline are unconstitutional. The State House of Representatives passed, 150-11, a Senate approved bill this past week extending the deadline to Feb. 28.

Along with city and school elections set for this year, the state legislature has set a special state-wide election on four constitutional amendments for May 18.

To End Season Friday—

League Leading Merkel Badgers Down Pipers

The Pied Pipers were dealt a cold hand Tuesday evening as they fell to the league leading Merkel Badgers, 66-47. The Pipers could only muster three points in the first period. With a three game lead over the second Pied Pipers, the Badgers have one game left before going into the playoffs.

The Pipers will close out their season here, Friday with the Haskell Indians. The Piperettes ended their season Tuesday with a 57-43 win over the Merkel girls.

Shelton Marshall led the Piper scoring against the Badgers with 16 points, followed by Milton Jones with 12. Debbie Hardaway led the scoring in the girls game with 34 points.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(February 12, 1926)

The Herald is not calling attention to the City chicken law from personal motives, but because a citizen suggested it. It is well and good to speak of it however, as this regulation is a new one for Hamlin and one that should work nicely in every part of town, where either gardens, flowers and chickens are to dwell together. They work fine provided there is a good fence between them.

LADY LOST HER HAT—Last Sunday night at the Baptist Church, a young lady left her hat in a coupe. She says the owner of the car wore a large white hat. The young lady said that the church was so crowded they had to stand up, and finally went to the nearest car, which was right in front of the door, and when the Song Program was over she hurriedly left the car and the HAT. The man with the coupe, the white hat and the ladies' hat please bring it to the Herald Office. Oh, yes, the fellow who came to that coupe not only wore a large hat, but had his wife and a baby with him, that is, the young lady says she guess it was his wife. Bring that hat to the Herald Office before Sunday, Mr. Man.

It looks like that the old mule and the faithful old horse are going the way of the saddle horse, the buggy and the carriage, and we might say the wagon. This week the Herald carries a notice or ad for John T. Day & Son, concerning the Farmall Power on the farm. There will be a Special Demonstration or Show of this machine at the Day store next Monday and a Free Picture Show of the same consisting of about five or six reels at the Opera House that afternoon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(February 9, 1951)

The Jones County courthouse and jail are now the property of the county and no debt exists as a result of action taken by the commissioners court this week. A surplus that had accumulated in the bond fund for the retirement of bonds voted in 1941 for the repair of the courthouse and jail permitted the court to retire a balance of $24,240 which would have been extended through payments to 1956. Bonding companies granted permission to the commissioners to pay the amount in the lump sum rather than in installments.

After use of the surplus to retire this indebtedness, the county was left with a surplus of $6,303.82 in the bond fund. Finances of the county were reported to be in good shape with the exception of the road and bridge fund which suffers from a heavy drain because of demands made on it for maintenance of county roads.

Directors of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce were assembled Wednesday morning at the offices of the organization in answer to a call for attendance.

Purpose of the called meeting was to install C. L. Howard, B. B. Frederick, Clyde Grice and Wesley Nail as new directors of the body.

Following installation of the four men, Carl Murrell was chosen as president of the Chamber of Commerce and Edgar Duncan was installed as vice president. Murrell succeeds Eddie Jay as the directing head of the group and Duncan assumes the chair of John C. Bryant.

T. C. Blankenship, head of the Vocational Agriculture department in the Hamlin schools, announced Tuesday that a record number of entries has already been received for the sixth annual livestock show which will be staged by the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H clubs of Jones County in Hamlin on February 24.

TEN YEARS AGO
(February 9, 1961)

A win over Spur here Friday night or at Spur Tuesday will give the Pied Pipers the district 6-AA basketball championship following Anson's 44-41, victory over Spur Tuesday.

Although Hamlin and Spur were originally scheduled to play January 24, the game was postponed because of bad weather until February 14 with the schedule changed for Spur to play here Friday night and there Tuesday.

Hamlin is undefeated in district play with two wins each over Anson, Stamford and Haskell. Spur lost their first district game when Anson set them back Tuesday.

Three games will be played both nights with the B team starting the action at 5:00 p.m.

The Hamlin Junior High team will play Albany tonight (Thursday) in Albany.

Hamlin defeated ACC High School Tuesday night, 92-74, on the sharp shooting of Cecil Robenson who punched in 30 points.

Members of the First Methodist Church have approved the preliminary plans for their $200,000 building program. The building committee has been authorized to ask for bids and to negotiate for the financing of the program.

Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth, architect, expects to have the plans for the bidders before March 1 and the Church hopes to secure a contract for the construction by April 1.

The building committee was also authorized to dispose of the former Smallwood house located on the expansion site.

The group voted to move the Church parsonage to the corner of N. W. Ave. A and N. W. Second Street.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Out With A Backward
Method of Improving Nation's Mail Service

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One studies the post office department this week, with what success we won't say. Dear editor:

According to some articles I've been reading in the newspapers that turn up out here, the post office department is undergoing a lot of changes in order, Washington says, to help balance the budget.

While I don't understand why Washington should balance its budget, very few people in the country balance theirs, still I've been following the reorganization plans and as I understand them the way to make the post office pay is to increase rates and cut down on service.

For example, first-class stamps are going up to 8 cents, aim mail to 11 cents, second-class rates are going up, etc. At the same time, post office hours are being cut back, city deliveries are being limited, and it has even been suggested that rural delivery be made only every other day.

This might do it, just as farmers would get a lot more for what they raise if they'd farm just every other year, but if you ask me Washington is going about the post office business in the wrong way. It's not getting at the heart of the matter.

The reason the post office is losing money and the service is getting worse is that

VFW Official Visits Local Post Feb. 2

Andy Huddleston of Sweetwater, senior vice commander of District 8, paid an unofficial visit to the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6014, in their regular meeting held at the Post home Feb. 2.

Mr. Huddleston gave a quick report on the mid-winter round-up held in Austin Jan. 29 and 30. He encouraged each member to do as much as possible for the Veterans Administration hospitals which are being used by ex-service-men of Hamlin. He also emphasized better attendance and participation in the local post.

people are flooding the mails with too many letters and other stuff.

And the reason they're doing that is that there are too many people in this country who can read and write.

The way to solve the mail jam is to stop teaching kids to read and write. They don't need it anyway, with television.

I understand some schools are working on this, some of them rather successfully, but I won't go into that.

Actually of course Washington has the wrong philosophy concerning mail service. The post office is a public service institution, it's not supposed to make a profit. It's like farming.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Results of Supplemental Feeding On Breeding He

The cow-calf operator in the Rolling Plains area is annually faced with the problem of supplemental feeding. His goal should be to maintain the breeding herd in a productive, thrifty condition, says Dr. Roy Miller of Vernon, area range and brush control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Studies have shown that maintaining excessive body weight in cows tend to reduce production efficiency and to shorten their productive life span. On the other hand, cows that are permitted to lose excessive amounts of weight may be poor milkers and slow to breed or may not breed at all. This will result in light calves and poor calf crops.

Research conducted in the Rolling Plains indicates that a 1,000 pound cow can lose from 100 to 125 pounds during the winter months without detrimental effects on her productive capacity, points out Miller. However, mineral and vitamin nutrition must be adequate.

In developing a supplemental feeding program, ranchmen should consider the kinds and amount of forage plants available, breeding or calving season and current weather conditions, particularly the amount of rainfall and its distribution.

Looking at the forage picture, the specialists point out that grasses in the Rolling Plains are generally high in protein, vitamins and phosphorus and low in fiber when they are young and succulent. As they mature they become lower in protein, phosphorus and Vitamin A and increase in fiber.

On a dry matter basis, the energy content of grasses is fairly constant with a slight reduction in value after maturity. Warm season grasses such as grama grasses, buffalograss and the bluestems will be deficient in protein, phosphorus and possibly Vitamin A during the dormant season but will furnish adequate amounts of energy. Therefore, primary concern is for furnishing protein, phosphorus and Vitamin A. On ranges that have a good complement of Texas wintergrass, palatable weeds and winter growing annual grasses, supplemental feeding may not be necessary since the winter growing grasses furnish adequate amounts of both protein and Vitamin A. However, a phosphorus supplement should be provided at least during the late fall and winter months.

Calving and the nutritional demands of milk production put cows into a period of stress during the winter, says Miller. In years when the fall and winter period is dry, herds that calve early (October, November) may derive more benefit from supplemental feeding than those calving later in the season.

Ranchmen should consider carefully the breeding and calving seasons as they relate to the seasonal supply and quality of forages and nutritional stress periods experienced by cows. Weaning weights and conception rates are of prime importance in the development of supplemental feeding practices.

When dry conditions thwart the growth of winter grasses, supplemental feeding of protein is dictated, Miller points out. The most significant re-such feeding show up in conception of the following year's calf crop rather than in increased weaning weights of the current calf crop.

Thus the livestock operator should be well acquainted with his forage resources and growing conditions. Supplemental feeding may well be justified one year and not another. The stockman needs to be prepared for the exceptional year if he is to make economically sound decisions, advises the specialist.

AUSTIN, — According to a 14-month nationwide study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, the Texas Legislature ranks 38th among all 50 states.

Study reported that the Lieutenant Governor has too much power, and suggested that some of it be transferred to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

CCSL came out strong for annual sessions of the Legislature and found $15,000 a reasonable annual pay for senators and representatives (who now get $4,800).

Conference also suggested that Texas has far too many legislative standing committees (72 in all) and that 15 for each house would be plenty. A joint hearing by House-Senate panels would also save time, the study maintained.

Broad powers of the Lieutenant Governor, said CCSL, are a "hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing." Powers include appointment of committee chairman, assigning bills to committees and casting tie-breaking votes.

States getting the best rankings were, in this order, California, New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Texas ranked 45th in ability to control its own activities, 43rd in the use of available information, 36th in accountability to constituency and 17th in being representative of the state's varied interests and population.

AUTO RATE REHEARING SOUGHT — Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office is seeking a rehearing on car insurance rates that were ordered by the State Insurance Board in December.

Counsel for TAISO and its 325 member companies filed official notice asking that the board re-examine the adequacy of rates it proposed to become effective January 1.

Insurance industry urged average overall 27.7 per cent increase statewide. Following hearings in Austin, Dallas and Houston, the Board agreed to grant a 14 per cent hike. Insurance Board staff has recommended 18 per cent.

Companies contend that "the use of a 25 per cent limitation on rate increases by coverage, classification and territory, without a specific allowance for catastrophes, results in conflictory rates... which is not in keeping with the Texas Insurance Code."

REGISTRATION TO RE-OPEN — Voter registration is due to reopen for the month of February.

Legislature passed a bill to extend the sign-up beyond January 31, and Gov. Preston Smith signed it into law.

Sen. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, who sponsored the measure, said that the bill shows the Legislature's good faith by getting in line with the Federal court decision. It threw out the annual voter registration requirement and criticized the gap between the end of the registration period and the election date.

A constitutional amendment proposal to wipe out Texas annual registration requirement by state action and other bills to authorize a registration-by-voting system are now pending in the Legislature. Main argument about the latter is over whether registration should be for a two or a four-year period.

AG OPINIONS — State Building Commission has authority to contract for equipment as part of a modernization, remodeling or building-construction project, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin said that:

Duties prescribed by the legislature for a position classification officer, state auditor and a legislative audit committee, relating to a classification plan for state employees, are constitutional.

Maximum compensation for the Grayson County chief deputy sheriff is $9,964; other deputies $8,737; and the base pay for two assistant county attorneys is $3,600 and other assistants $2,400.

Anthony Independent School District may select as its depository a national bank located in that part of town which is in New Mexico, but may not terminate the present contract until it expires.

Woman's Club of Houston is not entitled, under facts submitted, to an exemption from ad valorem taxes as institution of purely public charity.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court held that the probate court of a county may not order a convict transferred from prison to a state mental hospital to receive treatment for drug addiction.

Jury trial was ordered by Third Court of Civil Appeals in an insurance suit arising from a fire at the Atlas missile silo in Runnels County. Supreme Court invalidated San Antonio zoning ordinance amendment which would have allowed doctors to build a clinic in a residential area.

SPECIAL ELECTION MAY 18 — Four constitutional amendments were passed by the Legislature in overtime sessions and a special statewide election set for May 18.

Following amendments were approved for the May ballot:

SJR 5 — To remove the Constitutional ceiling on aid to the aged, blind and disabled and fix a $55 million maximum on aid to families with dependent children. An $80 million ceiling now applies to all four categories. Unless it is increased (via the May vote), reductions in AFDC will be necessary.

SJR 15 — To establish an official state commission to map ethical standards for state legislators and other officials and to set their pay. Critics lambasted the measure as a device of lawmakers to get a pay raise at a time when the public is demanding legislative reforms.

SJR 17 — Authorizing a $100 million bond issue to finance state aid to local units of government on water treatment plans.

HJR 21 — To permit submission of future constitutional amendment proposals in special as well as regular sessions.

First on the ballot, determined by public drawing, will be SJR 15. Second will be HJR 21; third SJR 5 and fourth SJR 17.

A key proposal of Governor Smith's, to tap school land mineral lease-royalty incomes for current spending, (depended on for $80 million toward balancing the new budget) fell by the wayside.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes strongly recommended that the Legislature write a single-year budget which would dilute the tax bill necessary for this year, but necessitate another one in 1972.

Barnes proposed re-alignment of priorities for the use of revenue flowing through the omnibus clearing fund as a way to avert an immediate welfare crisis without deficit financing.

House revenue and tax committee dusted off a sales and cigarette tax bill, just in case.

SHORT SNORTS Texas Water Development Board authorized the sale of $25 million in development bonds, with bids to be opened February 24.

Secretary of Agriculture advised the Texas State Department of Health of its intentions to take over the meat inspection program in 15 states, including Texas, unless several packing plants meet Federal standards soon.

House committee studying congressional and legislative redistricting plans a series of statewide hearings for "local advice."

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar ruled that the Crystal City Independent School District failed to show justifiable cause to reassign or dismiss Supt. John Briggs and ordered his contract honored.

Rep. Calhoun Files Women's Rights Bill In House

State Representative Frank Calhoun of Abilene has introduced a "Women's Liberation" bill in the Texas House of Representatives.

In commenting on the measure, Rep. Calhoun explained that Article 5172a of the Revised Civil Statutes provides that no female may be employed for more than 9 hours in any one calendar day, nor more than 54 in any one calendar week. "This creates a severe problem in many industries that must bid for U. S. Government Contracts that provide for no discrimination in employment practices because of color, creed or sex. Employers are forced to either violate state law or fail to qualify for Federal Contracts when they cannot allow women employees to work overtime along with their male co-workers. We hope to solve this problem through corrective legislation.

Calhoun's bill would not affect the laws requiring additional seating facilities or the exceptions now contained in the State Law.

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

As you will note elsewhere in this issue the voter registration period has been extended until the end of February following the passing of legislation in Austin. This was brought about by a court ruling last December to the effect the Texas Law left too much time between the registration period and elections.

We doubt very seriously if this new law will satisfy the courts any more than the old law did. This is likely just a stop gap measure to get us by until some form of amendment to the constitution can be passed whereby voters who vote one year will automatically be registered for the next year.

All of this is just fine except we doubt that it will do any good. We already have more people registering than we do voting. Voter registrations over the state have not climbed much since the days of the poll tax. And while the added few days this year might get a few more registered, we suspect that if the same law is in effect next year we will see the same last minute rush to register. When you already have four months to register we doubt if adding one more month will help.

While we don't see anything unconstitutional about having to register to vote, we are not too surprised at a federal court ruling this way. We seem to be in the age where if things are not going your way you just change the rules. If you want more voters you just change the rules to make it easier and easier—whether it works or not.

This seems to be the trend with everything. If the rules offend you—just change them. Kids don't like the rules at school so let us just change them. The U. S. Senate seems to bog down in its own inertia so let's change the rules it has operated by for nearly 200 years.

The world is full of problems, but we doubt that they can all be solved by just changing the rules. Somewhere we have to learn the rule of nature that in the end if you want something you have to pay for it.

And where we have on the one hand those who want to eliminate rules they don't like, we have on the other hand those who want to keep adding rules in the name of consumer protection.

We read somewhere the other day that we waste $25 million a year on money spent for seat belts that are never used. We have just about wiped out all of the smaller locker plants with government regulations to protect the consumer. The same is true of ambulance service. Already the city of Stamford has had to take over the service there while here and in Anson efforts are being made to work out some solution to the problem.

We understand that the already bad tv programming is likely to be even worse this fall as the FCC has ruled that the networks must give back to the local stations a half hour of prime time in the name of local interest programming but at the same time have ruled that the local stations can fill this time with anything they wish.

And the list can go on and on.

Have you been keeping up with the welfare mess in New York City where they are housing families in all of the old hotels? How would you like to own an old, run down hotel and collect as much as $250 a week for two rooms?

While we have not seen these hotels in New York we have seen some in Dallas and other places that must be similar and if they got $25 a week for two rooms it would be too much.

Don't know what the answer to their problem, but maybe we could reopen the old White Plaza and Harden Hotel here and import some welfare people.

Supt. Pleads for Better Attendance By Students

Hamlin School Supt. C. F. Cook issued a statement this week urging better school attendance by local students. He cited state aid as a prime reason for better attendance.

The State of Texas bases its aid to the local school district on average daily attendance and as attendance falls off the state aid drops with the local taxpayers being required to make up the difference.

Other reasons he cited as being important for each child to attend school regularly were:

"The teacher cannot help your child if they are not in school.

"Being regular in school is a good way to develop responsibility.

"If your child is irregular in attendance, he or she will get behind and therefore get discouraged.

"The best education you can receive these days may not be good enough."

Supt. Cook concluded, "Please if your child is not ill, send or bring them to school."

It is the responsibility of the superintendent of schools in Texas to enforce the Compulsory School Attendance Law.

This law states, "Every

Voter Registration Deadline Extended

Voter registration has been re-opened across Texas and will continue until Feb. 28 following the signing of a bill by Gov. Preston Smith extending the registration time beyond the Jan. 31 deadline.

County tax assessor and collectors across the state received telegrams Friday ordering immediate re-opening of the registration and continuation of registration through February.

Extension of the deadline resulted from a three-judge federal panel's ruling that Houston last month that Texas' voter registration procedures in regard to the deadline are unconstitutional. The State House of Representatives passed, 120-11, a Senate approved bill this past week extending the deadline to Feb. 28.

Along with city and school elections set for this year, the state legislature has set a special state-wide election on four constitutional amendments for May 18.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(February 12, 1926)

The Herald is not calling attention to the City chicken law from personal motives, but because a citizen suggested it. It is well and good to speak of it however, as this regulation is a new one for Hamlin and one that should work nicely in every part of town, where either gardens, flowers and chickens are to dwell together. They work fine provided there is a good fence between them.

LADY LOST HER HAT—Last Sunday night at the Baptist Church, a young lady left her hat in a coupe. She says the owner of the car wore a large white hat. The young lady said that the church was so crowded they had to stand up, and finally went to the nearest car, which was right in front of the door, and when the Song Program was over she hurriedly left the car and the HAT. The man with the coupe, the white hat and the ladies' hat please bring it to the Herald Office. Oh, yes, the fellow who came to that coupe not only wore a large hat, but had his wife and a baby with him, that is, the young lady says she guess it was his wife. Bring that hat to the Herald Office before Sunday, Mr. Man.

It looks like that the old mule and the faithful old horse are going the way of the saddle horse, the buggy and the carriage, and we might say the wagon. This week the Herald carries a notice or ad for John T. Day & Son, concerning the Farmall Power on the farm. There will be a Special Demonstration or Show of this machine at the Day store next Monday and a Free Picture Show of the same consisting of about five or six reels at the Opera House that afternoon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(February 9, 1951)

The Jones County courthouse and jail are now the property of the county and no debt exists as a result of action taken by the commissioners court this week. A surplus that had accumulated in the bond fund for the retirement of bonds voted in 1941 for the repair of the courthouse and jail permitted the court to retire a balance of $24,240 which would have been extended through payments to 1956. Bonding companies granted permission to the commissioners to pay the amount in the lump sum rather than in installments.

After use of the surplus to retire this indebtedness, the county was left with a surplus of $6,303.82 in the bond fund. Finances of the county were reported to be in good shape with the exception of the road and bridge fund which suffers from a heavy drain because of demands made on it for maintenance of county roads.

Directors of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce were assembled Wednesday morning at the offices of the organization in answer to a call for attendance.

Purpose of the called meeting was to install C. L. Howard, B. B. Frederick, Clyde Grice and Wesley Nail as new directors of the body.

Following installation of the four men, Carl Murrell was chosen as president of the Chamber of Commerce and Edgar Duncan was installed as vice president. Murrell succeeds Eddie Jay as the directing head of the group and Duncan assumes the chair of John C. Bryant.

T. C. Blankenship, head of the Vocational Agriculture department in the Hamlin schools, announced Tuesday that a record number of entries has already been received for the sixth annual livestock show which will be staged by the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H clubs of Jones County in Hamlin on February 24.

TEN YEARS AGO
(February 9, 1961)

A win over Spur here Friday night or at Spur Tuesday will give the Pied Pipers the district 6-AA basketball championship following Anson's 44-41, victory over Spur Tuesday.

Although Hamlin and Spur were originally scheduled to play January 24, the game was postponed because of bad weather until February 14 with the schedule changed for Spur to play here Friday night and there Tuesday.

Hamlin is undefeated in district play with two wins each over Anson, Stamford and Haskell. Spur lost their first district game when Anson set them back Tuesday.

Three games will be played both nights with the B team starting the action at 5:00 p. m.

The Hamlin Junior High team will play Albany tonight (Thursday) in Albany.

Hamlin defeated ACC High School Tuesday night, 92-74, on the sharp shooting of Cecil Robenson who punched in 30 points.

Members of the First Methodist Church have approved the preliminary plans for their $200,000 building program. The building committee has been authorized to ask for bids and to negotiate for the financing of the program.

Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth, architect, expects to have the plans for the bidders before March 1 and the Church hopes to secure a contract for the construction by April 1.

The building committee was also authorized to dispose of the former Smallwood house located on the expansion site.

The group voted to move the Church parsonage to the corner of N. W. Ave. A and N. W. Second Street.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Out With A Backward
Method of Improving Nation's Mail Service

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One studies the post office department this week, with what success we won't say. Dear editor:

According to some articles I've been reading in the newspapers that turn up out here, the post office department is undergoing a lot of changes in order, Washington says, to help balance the budget.

While I don't understand why Washington should balance its budget, very few people in the country balance theirs, still I've been following the reorganization plans and as I understand them the way to make the post office pay is to increase rates and cut down on service.

For example, first-class stamps are going up to 8 cents, aim mail to 11 cents, second-class rates are going up, etc. At the same time, post office hours are being cut back, city deliveries are being limited, and it has even been suggested that rural delivery be made only every other day.

This might do it, just as farmers would get a lot more for what they raise if they'd farm just every other year, but if you ask me Washington is going about the post office business in the wrong way. It's not getting at the heart of the matter.

The reason the post office is losing money and the service is getting worse is that

VFW Official Visits
Local Post Feb. 2

Andy Huddleston of Sweetwater, senior vice commander of District 8, paid an unofficial visit to the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6014, in their regular meeting held at the Post home Feb. 2.

Mr. Huddleston gave a quick report on the mid-winter round-up held in Austin Jan. 29 and 30. He encouraged each member to do as much as possible for the Veterans Administration hospitals which are being used by ex-service-men of Hamlin. He also emphasized better attendance and participation in the local post.

people are flooding the mails with too many letters and other stuff.

And the reason they're doing that is that there are too many people in this country who can read and write.

The way to solve the mail jam is to stop teaching kids to read and write. They don't need it anyway, with television.

I understand some schools are working on this, some of them rather successfully, but I won't go into that.

Actually of course Washington has the wrong philosophy concerning mail service. The post office is a public service institution, it's not supposed to make a profit. It's like farming.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mrs. Addie Tabb has been in Dallas, visiting her nieces and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currie, Susan and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Waldrop and children. She also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Riddle and Pam in Tyler and made a business trip to Sherman and Perrin AFB.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Results of Supplemental Feeding On Breeding He

The cow-calf operator in the Rolling Plains area is annually faced with the problem of supplemental feeding. His goal should be to maintain the breeding herd in a productive, thrifty condition, says Dr. Roy Miller of Vernon, area range and brush control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Studies have shown that maintaining excessive body weight in cows tend to reduce production efficiency and to shorten their productive life span. On the other hand, cows that are permitted to lose excessive amounts of weight may be poor milkers and slow to breed or may not breed at all. This will result in light calves and poor calf crops.

Research conducted in the Rolling Plains indicates that a 1,000 pound cow can lose from 100 to 125 pounds during the winter months without detrimental effects on her productive capacity, points out Miller. However, mineral and vitamin nutrition must be adequate.

In developing a supplemental feeding program, ranchmen should consider the kinds and amount of forage plants available, breeding or calving season and current weather conditions, particularly the amount of rainfall and its distribution.

Looking at the forage picture, the specialists point out that grasses in the Rolling Plains are generally high in protein, vitamins and phosphorus and low in fiber when they are young and succulent. As they mature they become lower in protein, phosphorus and Vitamin A and increase in fiber.

On a dry matter basis, the energy content of grasses is fairly constant with a slight reduction in value after maturity. Warm season grasses such as grama grasses, buffalograss and the bluestems will be deficient in protein, phosphorus and possibly Vitamin A during the dormant season but will furnish adequate amounts of energy. Therefore, primary concern is for furnishing protein, phosphorus and Vitamin A.

On ranges that have a good complement of Texas wintergrass, palatable weeds and winter growing annual grasses, supplemental feeding may not be necessary since the winter growing grasses furnish adequate amounts of both protein and Vitamin A. However, a phosphorus supplement should be provided at least during the late fall and winter months.

Calving and the nutritional demands of milk production put cows into a period of stress during the winter, says Miller. In years when the fall and winter period is dry, herds that calve early (October, November) may derive more benefit from supplemental feeding than those calving later in the season.

Ranchmen should consider carefully the breeding and calving seasons as they relate to the seasonal supply and quality of forages and nutritional stress periods experienced by cows. Weaning weights and conception rates are of prime importance in the development of supplemental feeding practices.

When dry conditions thwart the growth of winter grasses, supplemental feeding of protein is dictated, Miller points out. The most significant re-

such feeding show up in conception of the following year's calf crop rather than in increased weaning weights of the current calf crop.

Thus the livestock operator should be well acquainted with his forage resources and growing conditions. Supplemental feeding may well be justified one year and not another. The stockman needs to be prepared for the exceptional year if he is to make economically sound decisions, advises the specialist.

AUSTIN, — According to a 14-month nationwide study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, the Texas Legislature ranks 38th among all 50 states.

Study reported that the Lieutenant Governor has too much power, and suggested that some of it be transferred to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

CCSL came out strong for annual sessions of the Legislature and found $15,000 a reasonable annual pay for senators and representatives (who now get $4,800).

Conference also suggested that Texas has far too many legislative standing committees (72 in all) and that 15 for each house would be plenty. A joint hearing by House-Senate panels would also save time, the study maintained.

Broad powers of the Lieutenant Governor, said CCSL, are a "hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing." Powers include appointment of committee chairman, assigning bills to committees and casting tie-breaking votes.

States getting the best rankings were, in this order, California, New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Texas ranked 45th in ability to control its own activities, 43rd in the use of available information, 36th in accountability to constituency and 17th in being representative of the state's varied interests and population.

AUTO RATE REHEARING SOUGHT — Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office is seeking a rehearing on car insurance rates that were ordered by the State Insurance Board in December.

Counsel for TAISO and its 325 member companies filed official notice asking that the board re-examine the adequacy of rates it proposed to become effective January 1.

Insurance industry urged average overall 27.7 per cent increase statewide. Following hearings in Austin, Dallas and Houston, the Board agreed to grant a 14 per cent hike. Insurance Board staff has recommended 18 per cent.

Companies contend that "the use of a 25 per cent limitation on rate increases by coverage, classification and territory, without a specific allowance for catastrophes, results in confiscatory rates... which is not in keeping with the Texas Insurance Code."

REGISTRATION TO REOPEN — Voter registration is due to reopen for the month of February.

Legislature passed a bill to extend the signup beyond January 31, and Gov. Preston Smith signed it into law.

Sen. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, who sponsored the measure, said that the bill shows the Legislature's good faith by getting in line with the Federal court decision. It threw out the annual voter registration requirement and criticized the gap between the end of the registration period and the election date.

A constitutional amendment proposal to wipe out Texas annual registration requirement by state action and other bills to authorize a registration-by-voting system are now pending in the Legislature. Main argument about the latter is over whether registration should be for a two or a four-year period.

AG OPINIONS — State Building Commission has authority to contract for equipment as part of a modernization, remodeling or building-construction project, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin said that:

Duties prescribed by the legislature for a position classification officer, state auditor and a legislative audit committee, relating to a classification plan for state employees, are constitutional.

Maximum compensation for the Grayson County chief deputy sheriff is $9,964; other deputies $8,737; and the base pay for two assistant county attorneys is $3,600 and other assistants $2,400.

Anthony Independent School District may select as its depository a national bank located in that part of town which is in New Mexico, but may not terminate the present contract until it expires.

Woman's Club of Houston is not entitled, under facts submitted, to an exemption from ad valorem taxes as institution of purely public charity.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court held that the probate court of a county may not order a convict transferred from prison to a state mental hospital to receive treatment for drug addiction.

Jury trial was ordered by Third Court of Civil Appeals in an insurance suit arising from a fire at the Atlas missile silo in Runnels County. Supreme Court invalidated San Antonio zoning ordinance amendment which would have allowed doctors to build a clinic in a residential area.

SPECIAL ELECTION MAY 18 — Four constitutional amendments were passed by the Legislature in overtime sessions and a special statewide election set for May 18.

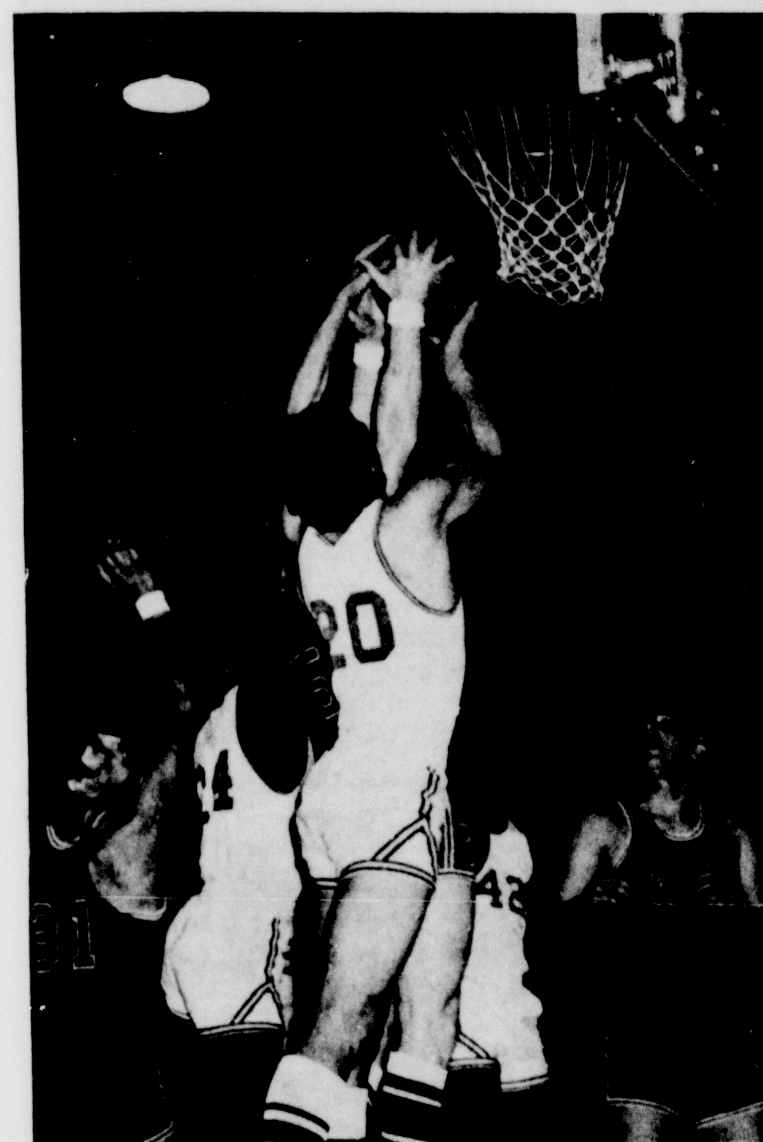

Following amendments were approved for the May ballot:

SJR 5 — To remove the Constitutional ceiling on aid to the aged, blind and disabled and fix a $55 million maximum on aid to families with dependent children. An $80 million ceiling now applies to all four categories. Unless it is increased (via the May vote), reductions in AFDC will be necessary.

SJR 15 — To establish an

Rep. Calhoun Files Women's Rights Bill In House

State Representative Frank Calhoun of Abilene has introduced a "Women's Liberation" bill in the Texas House of Representatives.

In commenting on the measure, Rep. Calhoun explained that Article 5172a of the Revised Civil Statutes provides that no female may be employed for more than 9 hours in any one calendar day, nor more than 54 in any one calendar week. "This creates a severe problem in many industries that must bid for U. S. Government Contracts that provide for no discrimination in employment practices because of color, creed or sex. Employers are forced to either violate state law or fail to qualify for Federal Contracts when they cannot allow women employees to work overtime along with their male co-workers. We hope to solve this problem through corrective legislation.

Calhoun's bill would not affect the laws requiring additional seating facilities or the exceptions now contained in the State Law.
